

Township of McNab/Braeside

Building Construction Update: Oct. 16, 2018

John A. Gillies Recreation Centre (JAG)

Work at the John A. Gillies Recreation Centre in Braeside is nearing completion. Roofing materials are on-site and the completion of this work is underway. Window installation has begun. Rubberized flooring is being installed this week which will allow for the final touches to be installed inside the building. Stay tuned for the official opening of this replacement building!

Municipal Office

The wood structure is finally here! Now that the full structure has arrived on-site, the new municipal office building is beginning to take shape (see photo below). Residents can expect to see major progress over the coming months with completion expected in early 2019. Once completed, this new building will be fully accessible to the public.

“Perneel” Building

Renovation of the “Perneel” building’s interior finishes is almost complete, however, several building services are linked to the construction of the new Municipal Office. The geo-thermal heat pump, water and septic are connected to the new Office in order to increase efficiency and lower overall construction cost. Once these services are installed in the new Office, the Township will be able to open this building to the public. This central recreation space will support both current residents across the Township as well as future development anticipated with the expansion of Hwy. 417.

A public survey is currently underway regarding the proposed naming of this newly renovated building. A link to the survey can be found here:
